SunAdvantage Health Spending Account (An optional benefit)

Why an HSA

Health Spending Accounts are an easy way for plan sponsors to supplement the products and services their group benefits plan covers. They can enhance the flexibility of the group health and dental benefits at a cost that is both predictable and manageable.

How it works

Once each year, plan sponsors contribute credits to their plan members' HSA. Plan members then use these credits to pay for a variety of health and dental expenses. Any credits remaining in members' accounts at the end of a benefit year are automatically carried forward to the following benefit year. Plan members have until the end of the second benefit year to use these credits, or they'll lose them.

In Quebec, Health Spending Accounts are considered a taxable benefit for provincial income tax purposes.

Benefits, enhanced

Funded by plan sponsors and administered by us, a Sun Life Financial Health Spending Account allows plan members to submit claims for eligible expenses, such as:

- Deductibles and co-insurance amounts
- Expenses over any plan maximums that may be in place
- Health and dental expenses a group benefits plan may not cover, for example, orthodontics, laser eye surgery and physician fees

Expenses that qualify as a medical expense under the federal Income Tax Act qualify for payment from an HSA.

Group Critical Illness Insurance (CII) (An optional benefit)

Why Critical Illness Insurance?

Critical Illness Insurance (CII) is not intended to replace other benefits - it is designed to complement them. Offering CII as part of a benefits plan can help employees protect themselves and their families if they should face serious illness. They will be better able to access the medical treatment they need, and focus on their recovery without worrying about the financial burden.

The choice is yours

Our Critical Illness insurance plans are designed to let employers choose what's best. We offer three levels of protection, from a basic plan (A) that covers the three most common critical conditions, an enhanced plan (B) that covers 11 conditions, and a comprehensive plan (C) that covers 19 conditions.

Conversion

Provided employees have not terminated their Critical Illness insurance voluntarily, the conversion privilege allows them to continue their coverage when the group Critical Illness insurance benefit terminates, e.g. when they change employment.

Cost Plus benefit coverage (An optional benefit)

Group benefit plans provided by Sun Life Financial include coverage for most medical and dental services available. Reimbursement for these services is generally subject to some level of coinsurance and/or deductible, and there may be a maximum amount paid for certain services. In addition, there may be some expenses that are not covered under a group plan.

Often, employers provide a “cost plus” arrangement that extends coverage beyond the base group benefits plan for designated classes of employees and their eligible dependents. These benefits can be reimbursed on a “cost plus” basis if such expenses qualify as an Eligible Medical Expense under the Federal Income Tax Act.

The process is simple. First, the employer identifies any classes of employees who are eligible for the “cost plus” arrangement. Eligible employees accumulate their claim expenses and provide them to their benefits administrator a few times a year. The benefits administrator completes the “cost plus” form and sends it and the original receipts to their designated Sun Life claims office along with the claim amount, administration fees and applicable taxes. A claim payment is forwarded to the employee in the same manner as any other regular claim payments.

The costs incurred by the employer for these claims may be eligible as a deduction against income on the financial statements of the employer. Please consult your tax advisor to see whether a “cost plus” arrangement is right for your business.

Any additional information you can provide will be helpful, e.g. rate history and claims experience if applicable; any medical risk, such as presently disabled members, or any members involved in hazardous activities.
